World Trade Towers

This newsletter has been a difficult one to write. The terrible tragedy of the World Trade Towers has changed our lives. Our freedom has been threatened by the deadly fears which have invaded our lives. What is going to happen next? Who or What will be the next target?

Some of us probably have friends or relatives who were killed or injured in the tragedy. Even if we don't it tears at your heart to see on the T.V. persons who were involved either in escaping the collapse of the buildings or the rescue efforts. The rubble which remains of the Twin Towers reminds us of our vulnerability. The burden the survivors have, to take up their lives, which have been so tragically changed since September 11, 2001. These things are on our minds and sadden us.

The best things we can do is continue on, support our country in this War Against Terrorism. It isn't possible to enumerate the Acts of Terrorism that have taken place throughout the history of mankind. Man has a habit of cruelty to persons in order to be supreme either in religion or control of other human beings.

Keep the prayers to our Heavenly Father going and remember to love one another.

Branson Reunion

The Branson Reunion was really a great one !!! The Jess Wintermute Family made it so special. They and their staff did so much to make us feel at home. They helped in every way possible to make the reunion so special. We thank them with love.

We had around 105 attendees. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves. I know we did. The officers had a good meeting Thursday morning. Many things were discussed. The evening meeting was fun and everyone told a little bit about themselves. Other prizes were cups with the imprinted design, Windemuth Reunion, Branson, Missouri, 2001 with a golden doller inside.

Leonard Wintermote gave the treasurer's report. Susan Meier was responsible for the genealogy report. She would appreciate any materials or reports you may have. Newsletter report, Janice Snyder, please send any material you would like to share with others and it will be published. (Continue on page two)

Friday morning we had fine entertainment at the Wintermute Dinner Belle Theater, the Buck Trent Breakfast show. Was fun with lots of enjoyable county music.

Jess and Joanne and Family had a nice barbecue at their home just over the line in Arkansas. Was a beautiful place, they have a wonderful home and the food was delicious. We had a nice time visiting and getting better acquainted with our cousins.

Thanks everyone for making my job so easy.

Letter to Cairo, Egypt

Sent by Ken & Pat Lundburg, written by their son Wes Lundberg, Professor at Fergus Falls Community College. Educated compassion

Sir- I frequently browse your paper's Web site and many others in the Middle East, as one American who is very concerned and interested in the world's view of world events -- and in particular how the world views the US. I was a little surprised to see your article The Giant's Feet of Clay (Al-Ahram Weekly, 13 - 19 September) reporting that the US "ground to a standstill" following the World Trade Center disaster. You couldn't be more mistaken.

As indicated in your article, air traffic came to a complete stop and certainly the stock exchanges came to a stop (not reported by your paper), but the college campus where I teach continued as normal... the city I live in continued as normal. My wife and I had dinner at one of all the open restaurants, and we filled our car's gas tank at one of the open gas stations. In fact, all businesses in the area were open and the traffic on the roads was normal. The state I live in continued as normal with the exception of the precautionary closure of possible additional terrorist targets. In fact, only the airline industry and the stock exchanges ground to a stop. Beyond that, the only thing not normal was the grief we feel at what has happened... the same grief, in my case, that I've felt with each report of a violent episode in Palestine/Israel.

As a college professor, I'm interested in all peoples everywhere being well informed and well educated. I've spent time in my classes in the last week educating my student on the Islamic world's views of the US (I teach classes on religion) and giving credence to many of the criticisms of the US that are in the Third World: there most certainly is often a hypocrisy between what we Americans "preach" and what we actually do in terms of foreign policy. My students have been most receptive to this message. I know I am not the only American who hears and understands the concerns of those beyond our borders and the Euro-centric community

I would encourage you to bear in mind that the US is a many-faceted country... peopled by peace-loving, social-justice-minded folks, just as you may well have in Egypt. I would also remind you that only a small percentage of the US is represented by the airlines and the stock exchanges. Business is conducted outside of these institutions and industries as well as in them. The entire shipping industry, railroad and trucking, for example, has continued without interruption. To suggest that the shut-down of the airline industry and the stock exchanges indicates a complete stoppage of the US is simply ridiculous... every bit as ridiculous as the views of some Americans that many criticisms of the the US are unfounded.

By reporting in the manner you have, including a tone of celebration that this "giant" has been brought down, you are contributing to the lack of dialogue and understanding between different backgrounds. You are perpetuating the kind of misunderstanding between people of different backgrounds. You are perpetuating the kind of misunderstanding that leads to and encourages hate. The way to a peaceful, harmonious future is by helping to promote a tone and climate that is accurate in representing facts and compassionate in dealing with people. Please... you are in the business of educating people, just as I am... join me and other world citizens in responsible education and reporting.

Here is the response to Wes's letter.

Dear Mr. Lundberg,

I have read your letter to the editor of Al-Ahram and I applaud your vision and your criticism.

You have showed us a great deal of caution in your views and criticized on a high level. As an Egyptian-German living in Switzerland, I thank you for educating the children peace. I pray to God - the same God we all have - that the US does not retaliate in manner that aggravated extremists even further.

I also pray for those believers that live in the US. May God save them from bigotry.

My true condolences for this ever-so-serious tragedy.

May the Good prevail

Susan Meier, Genealogy Chair, had created an album of old photographs on line. For example, there are pictures of George Wintermute, b. 4-28-1787, d. 1-4-1862, grandson of emigrator John Georg; Jacob A. Middleswarth B. 20 Sept 1819, d. 7-June 1883, husband of Catherine Wintermute b. 24 Nov 1817, d. 11 Dec 1891, gr-granddaughter of John Georg, through Peter Wintermute and Catherine Snover, tintype of John Hankinson Wintermute, b. 9 Feb 1879, and so forth. Susan has made it available to us at www.photopoint.com, then go to visit albums, upper right hand corner, type in susanm1215@aol.com and scroll down to Wintermute Family Pictures and then follow directions on viewing or purchasing. Thank you Susan for making this available to interested persons.

Family Items Available to Kin

Submitted by Susan Meier, Genealogy Chair

As part of the purchase of some antique Wintermute furniture, donated to the Sussex County NJ Museum, I received a number of other items which came with the purchase. Since I am not descended from this line, I would like to see an appropriate descendant receive these materials. These items belonged to Frances Helen Kent, and she had no descendants. This is the line for which I am seeking an interested descendant or relative: Johann Georg-George-Issac-John Hankinson- Joseph-Helen-Frances.

The following is a sample of these materials:

- Small Methodist Episcopal hymnbook with the inscription "John H Wintermute's Book-March 14th 1837." A Faded "John Wintermute" appears below the above inscription, possibly his signature.
- Thompson Bible Records-Original Pages for the family of Pluma Thompson Wintermute's parents, John and Harriet Thompson.
- 10 generation hand written family chart of ancestors of Lorinda Baldwin Wintermute, going back to Richard Baldwin Sr. B. 1500 England.

- Letter addressed Dear Cousin from G. O. Powers dated January 18, 1891, Nottingham.
- Various poems copied by Pluma (Thompson) and JHW, presumably John Hankinson Wintermute.
- Family listing of 11 generations from Nathaniel Ely to Frances H. Kent.
- 2 page letter, dated 8 March 1972, from Frances Kent to Maxine, a cousin on the Thompson side who lived on Locust Street, Rockville Centre, L.I. NY, discussing family history. Attached 3rd page is a family chart from Thankful Ely Bannister down 6 gens. to Frances Kent.
- The Allegheny College Bulletin, Series XXV, Nov. 4, dated September 1926.
- Commencement Exercises Program of Allegheny College dated June 19 1902, featuring Helen Irene Wintermute.
- Eighty-Ninth Annual Commencement Announcement of Allegheny College, June 12-16, 1904.
- Award given to Helen Wintermute Kent in recognition of 50 years of service to the Allegheny College Alumni Association, dated June 7, 1952.
- Ledger Pages from Book of Isaac Wintermute dated 20 June 1800.
- Several pictures of Helen Wintermute, including one of her and her husband with old portrait in background.
- Newspaper Obituary of Joseph Wintermute.
- Kent family list from Thomas Kent, b. 1643 England to Frances b. 1911.
- Several college compositions of Helen Wintermute.

If you are interested in obtaining these items, please contact me at my e-mail address: susanm1215@aol.com or telephone: 916-684-5368. In case of several requests, I will be looking for the person who has an interest in preserving this family history and is most closely related to this line.

Aunt Gert's Trophy

Contributed by Louise Wintermute Dukes

Getrude Wintermute Livingston just may be the oldest champion golfer in the Windemuth family. In March 2001, she played in the Championship 54 hole tournament of the Whiskey Creek Country Club in Fort Meyers, Florida. The tournament is a three-day event with a low net winner each day as well as at the conclusion. To her own surprise(though she has been an excellent golfer for years) Gertrude was the winner on each of the three days. She was awarded a trophy at the club banquet which was inscribed with her name and Championship Women's Golf Low Net, Age 87.

Gertrude regularly plays golf on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. She also plays bridge two or three times a week. Another of her hobbies is growing orchids, hanging the potted plants in the grapefruit tree in her back yard. A seasoned world traveler, she recently went on a week-long tour of the islands of New England via Clipper ship.

Since her husband Lowell Livingston died in 1997 Getrude has lived alone in Fort Meyers. Of course she communicates with her family by internet (ghgrandma@aol.com). Her extended family are very proud of "Aunt Gert", who is a real inspiration.

A Request from the Internet

Please pardon my intrusion. My name is Tim Pancake and I live in Shelby, Ohio. 40 years ago I served in the U.S. Navy aboard the USS EDISTO (AGB-2), an Icebreaker homeported in Boston, MA. In the late 1960 until mid- 1961 we were part of Task Force 43 - Operation Deep Freeze sixty-one in Antarctica. One of the members of the crew was W. L. Wintermute (I believe his first name was William). I do not know where he was from.

This year an effort has begun to establish contact with the members of the crew. We are doing what we can to reach them all! We thought perhaps with your large extended family - someone may know him (a cousin, nephew, uncle, brother, etc.) If you have any way of letting people know that a search is underway we would extremely grateful !

If he is known by someone - we would appreciate it if he could be given this contact information.

An E-mail Correspondence

I hired a carpenter to help me restore an old farmhouse, and after he had just finished a rough first day on the job, a flat tire made him lose an hour of work, his electric saw quit, and now his ancient pickup truck refused to start.

While I drove him home, he sat in silence. On arriving, he invited me in to meet his family. As we walked toward the front door, he paused briefly at a small tree, touching tips of the branches with both hands.

When opening the door, he underwent an amazing transformation. His tanned face was wreathed in smiles and he hugged his two small children and gave his wife a kiss. Afterward he walked me to the car. We passed the tree and my curiosity got the better of me.

I asked him about what I had seen him do earlier.

Oh, that's my trouble tree," he replied. "I know I can't help having troubles on the job, but one thing's for sure, troubles don't belong in the house with my wife and the children. So I just hang them up on the tree every night when I come home. Then in the morning I pick them up again.

"Funny thing is," he smiled, "that God makes sure that when I come out in the morning to pick 'em up, there ain't nearly as many as I remember hanging up the night before."
